

VICTOR RECORDS REPRODUCE VOICES OF FAMED SINGERS

Graphophone Selections May Be Heard In All Stores
Selling These Machines.

Of interest to the owners and admirers of the talking machine is the list of new Victor records for January, placed on sale in Washington yesterday, and now being played for the benefit of visitors to the various stores where Victor machines and records are for sale.

The January list contains selections, vocal and instrumental, given by the most famous singers and musicians, not only of America, but of Europe. The wonderful baritone voice of Pasquale Amato is reproduced on three records. Alma Gluck gives an exquisite rendition of "Home, Sweet Home." Frances Alda sings a dainty song, "The Cuckoo," in charming style. Edmond Clément, the French lyric tenor, contributes two records which exhibit his exquisite voice, style and perfection. Charles Dalmoré sings two favorite numbers from "Lohengrin" and "Samson." and Herbert Withegspoon and Emilio de Gogorza each give a splendid Vladimir de Pachmann's remarkable playing of the Chopin works has been greeted everywhere with enthusiasm. His two piano-forte reproductions, which the Victor has made show in a faithful manner his beautiful tone and exquisite delicacy of touch. A favorite Spanish dance is played by that accomplished violinist, Maud Powell, with rare brilliancy and dazzling execution. Boris Hambourg gives two highly popular cello solos—Schumann's favorite "Träumerei," and the dainty "Papillon" by Poppert. Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" is a wonderfully beautiful composition, and its exquisite beauty is fully revealed in the rendition by Victor Herbert's orchestra. The rendering of "Dear Heart" and "Fond Memories" by the Neapolitan trio (violin, flute, harp) are perfect examples of pure music. The Victor Military Band gives three rousing numbers, including the great popular success, "Alexander's Ragtime Band," and the Victor Dance Orchestra plays two dance numbers. Christie MacDonald, who has made the biggest success of her career in the "Spring Maid," sings two of her great hits, "Two Little Love Birds" and "Day Dreams," and her clear, sweet voice is perfectly recorded. Tom McNaughton, of the "Spring Maid" company, gets off his novel "Rabbit story," with its amusing orchestral touches. Robert Hillard recites "The Littlest Girl" and Harry Lauder presents four records which are brimming over with his characteristic Scotch wit.

"Ave Marie," adapted to the favorite intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana," makes a most impressive vocal solo and is delightfully rendered by Raymond Dixon. A brilliant record of a favorite "Tannhäuser" air is provided by Louise Voigt, a soprano well known on the concert stage. Agnes Kimball sings the impressive "Hear, Ye Israel," from "Elijah," and the Victor Light Opera Company revives the amusing "Sultan of Sulu" by giving a brilliant rendition of the most charming musical gems from that operetta.

There is sacred music, ragtime and popular songs, yodel songs, comic sketches, and every other kind of vocal and instrumental music.

ALLEGED ROBBER IN PENITENT MOOD

Young Man Held In Alexandria Reveals His Correct
Name—Photographed, He Becomes Despondent—Has Acted Strangely.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.
ALEXANDRIA, VA., DEC. 29.

The name of the young man now awaiting the action of the grand jury on a robbery charge at the city hall is Bertram Seaton, and not William P. Seaton, which name was entered on the police blotter, according to his statement made today. When Seaton was arrested Tuesday night he absolutely refused to give any information as to himself. From papers found in his pocket, bearing the name of William P. Seaton, however, the police concluded that his identity had been established. Now in a more penitent mood, however, he is at times willing to talk. William P. Seaton is said to be his brother.

When photographed at the jail Wednesday he became despondent and stated to Chief of Police Goods that he intended to throw himself on the mercy of the court. Since seeing his mother, however, it is understood that counsel will be employed.

William Candler, warden of the jail, stated that Seaton acts very strangely. Contrary to the first belief, he is not especially addicted to cigarettes. He is said to have admitted that he had used drugs, but he later denied this, saying that he was joking. Seaton also inquired of the jailer as to the probable term he would receive, and expressed great surprise when informed that a long penitentiary sentence was the penalty for his crime, with a possibility of punishment by death.

His mother, Mrs. Annie Seaton, insists that her son is not entirely responsible for his actions, and has acted in a strange manner for some time.

Chief Goods has secured a photograph of Seaton, which he will forward to the Washington Police Department, in order to establish the young man's record.

The annexation ordinance received Mayor F. J. Paff's sanction yesterday. Although the mayor stated that he did not entirely approve of its territorial dimensions, he placed his signature on the bill, believing that the judge to be appointed by the governor would set the proper bounds.

Further arrests of men suspected of wholesale robberies from the cars of the Southern Railway Company impending, the trial of the four men already under arrest has been postponed. All will be tried jointly before Justice of the Peace Lewis Dalbert, at Rosslyn, Tuesday next, at 7 p. m.

While he was attempting to dispose of a valuable fur-lined overcoat in the various barrooms of the city at a ridiculously small price, John Gilchrist, colored, was arrested by Officer Gill last night. The man is unable to give any clear account as to how he came into possession of the garment. In police court this morning the case was postponed for five days for investigation.

William Bradford, white, a stranger, who was arrested for kicking in the panel of a door in the northeastern section of the city, was fined $5.

Funeral services for Edgar Sutherland, who died at 1033 Montgomery street yesterday, were held from Wheatley's Chapel at 3:30 this afternoon. The Rev. Lawrence F. Kelley, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, officiated. The body was shipped to Washington for burial in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The annual "ladies' night" of Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus, has been announced for January 24. Besides a musical and literary program, an address will be delivered by the Rev. Charles Warren Currier, of the Catholic Indian Bureau, Washington.

The State corporation commission has granted an amendment to the charter of A. C. Luber & Co., Inc., of Washington, increasing its capital stock from $25,000 to $50,000. The concern is in the tinsorial business.

In the corporation court yesterday an order was issued by Judge Louis C. Bailey, directing Howard W. Smith, receiver, to pay a dividend of 10 per cent to stockholders in the International Building and Loan Association, of Washington, which failed nearly two years ago. This is the second dividend to be declared, one for a similar amount being paid last January. But few Alexandrians were interested in the affairs of the company.

Protectorate Benefits Dominican Republic

A report highly gratifying to the State Department has been received from the minister of finance for the Dominican Republic. It covers the year 1910, and shows remarkable growth of business in the republic under American protectorate of the treasury.

The report is taken at the State Department as an absolute vindication of the Honduran and Nicaraguan loan policies. Should the pending treaties be ratified by the Senate, the department believes Nicaragua and Honduras will prosper as has the Dominican Republic.

The report shows that the general receipts from all sources last year amounted to $2,385,748, and that, in spite of radical reductions, the revenues from the customs amounted to nearly $500,000.

Ironworker Falls, But Is Not Seriously Hurt

James Varre, an ironworker, employed on the new Riggs building, Fifteenth and G streets northwest, had a remarkable escape from death or serious injury yesterday afternoon, when he fell from a scaffold on the third floor of the structure.

Stepping back too far, Varre lost his balance and plunged from the scaffold. At the second floor he struck two ropes which broke the fall, and he landed at the bottom almost unhurt. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital where he was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION TO BE PUSHED FOR SAKE OF ECONOMY

Superintendent Knight of Montgomery County Soon to Start Work.

ROCKVILLE, Md., Dec. 29.—M. Donaldson Knight, superintendent of roads for Montgomery county, soon will put to work a force of men to open up quarries and make other preparations for beginning the construction of many miles of pike.

Several weeks ago the county commissioners passed an order directing all work of the kind be suspended until spring, but that order was rescinded at this week's meeting, it being decided that the work can be done cheaper at this time of year, when labor and teams are most available.

Miss Bessie Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Lewis, of the viclinity of Brownsville, this county, and Leslie G. Beall, also of near Brownsville, were married last evening at the home of the bride, the Rev. C. L. Davis, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Clarksburg, officiating. A large reception followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Beall leaving later for an extended trip.

In Trinity Methodist Church at Germantown, Miss Grace Violet Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Jones, of Germantown, and George Single Dorsey, also of Germantown, were married last evening by the pastor, the Rev. J. I. Winger. A large number witnessed the ceremony. Immediately afterward the young couple left for an extended trip.

The annual Christmas dance of the young men of Gaithersburg and vicinity was held in Masonic Hall, Gaithersburg, last evening, a large number of guests from this county, Washington, and elsewhere attending. The committee in charge was composed of Dr. Bates Etchison, J. Frank Traxare, and Forrest Walker.

Miss Nellie Rose Taylor and Dalbert Lee Bickler, both of Fairfax, Va., were married in Rockville yesterday afternoon, leaving for Washington immediately after the ceremony.

Eliot Still In Danger.

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Dec. 29.—The physicians express satisfaction at the progress made by Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, who was operated on for appendicitis three weeks ago. They say, however, he is not yet out of danger.

Chamber of Commerce Cuts Out Press Agent

The Chamber of Commerce will not employ a publicity agent. Neither will the publicity committee of the Chamber, which recommended the employment of such an official, make any further report to the organization until the February meeting.

At the special meeting last night the Chamber unanimously adopted a motion to reconsider its action at the regular monthly meeting, and then, after seven members had spoken against such employment, Washington Topham was the only member of the committee present. Albert Shulteis and A. J. Lamer led the attack on the committee's report, the latter saying that the proposition would bankrupt the Chamber in less than two years. Conrad Syme made the motion to refer back, which was carried. No other business was taken up.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. M. E. Boss

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret E. Boss, wife of Castleman P. Boss, were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at her family home, 32 Q street northwest. The Rev. Russell Verbruyke, assisted by the Rev. H. E. Rundage, officiated at the ceremony, and interment was made in Rock Creek Cemetery, with the rites of the Order of the Eastern Star, of which fraternity Mrs. Boss was a well-known member.

Several Officers May Be Retired

The War Department today announced a list of officers who are to be ordered before the Retiring Board. This list is not complete, the names of those officers now in the Philippines not being at hand. Those officers now slated for examination and possible retirement are Col. W. L. Fitcher, of the Infantry, now at Fort McDowell, Cal.; Col. W. P. Evans, of the Infantry, unassigned; Lieut. Col. James A. Goodin, of the Seventh Infantry, now at Fort Leavenworth; Major W. L. Simpson, of the Fifteenth Infantry, now at New York; and Major W. H. Brooks, of the Medical Corps, now at Fort McDowell, Cal.

Twenty-four "Cans" Of Music Stolen

Report was made to the police today that twenty-four "cans" of music, valued at $38, were stolen from a Mt. Pleasant car yesterday afternoon. The music consisted of rolls for a player piano, and were in a leather case. They were being delivered by an employee of Sankers & Saxman to R. J. Mammon, of 1549 Lamont street northwest. The case was stolen from the platform of the car.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS

Which on OUR Marking Have Been $20 to $30

Choice $16.75

They are the small lots—which must take the same medicine as the holiday lines. But they are highly desirable—and wouldn't be sacrificed now if the sizes were complete.

You know, as we showed you the other day, it is only fair to add at least $5 to our valuation always if you want to compare our prices with others! Because we make Saks Clothes we save you approximately that amount, according to the government schedule recently made public.

So much in plain figures—not to consider the betterness of our making—which isn't figurative in dollars and cents.

These small lots are naturally popular models and styles and while the sizes are broken—that means only we cannot supply every size in each lot—but among them all there is every size.

The Suits are fancy Cheviots, Cassimeres and Worsteds in conservative and soft roll models.

The Overcoats are Oxfords and Fancy effects—and our make and real English made—Raglan and regular shoulders, plain or convertible collars, lined or plaid back.

Use Crisco in Coconut Cake and see why

Crisco makes cake that has never been equaled with the ordinary shortening.

Butter is nearly one-fifth water. Crisco is all shortening.

Use Crisco in making white cake; use exactly as you would butter, only add salt. You will find your cake is finer grained, better flavored, equal to Angel Food in whiteness.

Use Crisco and find out for yourself its better results for all cooking wherever you now use butter or lard; its absolute cleanliness, its health value, its economy. You will see why experienced chefs prefer it—why the leading New York cooking school considers Crisco of the greatest benefit of any food product discovered in recent years.
